We are looking to partner with all types of businesses, both small and large, in a variety of settings. We will meet with you to determine how this service can specifically benefit you.
- Will I be obligated to hire the individual following the Evaluation/Work Experience?
There is no obligation to interview or hire the person during or after the evaluation period. If, however, you find that the person is a good fit for an open position and would like to consider them for employment, you are free to proceed!
- How does Rise ensure quality work?
The person performing the work will be closely supervised by a Rise employee. The Rise staff will first be trained in accordance to your businesses standards and expectations to ensure that the work is done correctly.

How does it work?

Incorporated in 1971, Rise is a nonprofit that assists people with disabilities or other challenges with their employment/career goals. Rise and the State of Minnesota offer paid work experiences or a vocational evaluation to eligible job-seekers looking to enter or re-enter the workforce.

Rise provides your business with a short-term worker and a Rise staff to supervise to ensure quality work. There is no obligation to hire the person. Rise is simply interested in learning more about a person's work skills.

Rise pays the worker minimum wage; you are not responsible for any payroll activity.

What are the benefits to my business?
